PURE RELIGION, UNTARNISHED DEMOCRACY AND GOOD GOVERNMENT.

TWENTY SECOND YEAR.

LANCASTER, KY., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1912.

NUMBER 44.

DID YOU KNOW That Conn Bros.

Sell the Best Goods at the lowest prices?
Do the best work at the most reasonable prices?

Have C. D. McCarthy working for them, who is about the best workman in the state? That when you buy a piece of machinery from them, you are sure to be satisfied for they know how to fix it so as to give the best service?

That they can order anything in their line, that they haven't on hand and guarantee that you will be satisfied?

That they will be pleased to have you call on them in their new store at the "Old Mason Hotel Property" on Stanford street and inspect their line of Buggies, Implements, Hardware etc., and get their prices on any work you may want done?

CONN BROTHERS

Lancaster, Ky.

Hardware, Plumbing, Heating

Having accepted a position at R. H. Batson's Dry Goods Store, I want all of my friends to trade with me.
Mrs. Dollie Brown.

Plumbers Kept Busy.

The severe weather of the last week has kept the plumbers busy. Water pipes have frozen and burst as have tanks to kitchen stoves which were not given proper attention, and the services of the plumber have been constantly in demand. We think the local talent a long that line must be exceptions to the general rule as to their charges, as we have heard no complaint of exorbitant charges.

Metcalfe-Kelly.

Mr. Walter Kelly and Miss Tressie Metcalfe drove to Richmond Wednesday and were married after which they returned to the home of the groom's parents where they were tendered a reception on Wednesday night. The groom is 25 years of age and is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. Kelly; the bride is 18 and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isiah Metcalfe of the Lowell locality.

Witness Returns.

Deputy Sheriff Bennie Robinson went over to Nicholasville Saturday and returned with Henry Cooley, colored, who is wanted as a witness in the trial of Allen Jones charged with the killing of Harrison Preston. At the time of the killing Cooley was arrested in connection with the crime, but was released on his own recognizance in the sum of $100. for his appearance before the grand jury. After his release, Cooley skipped the county, and his whereabouts were not known for some time, but officer Peel located and arrested him.

Evil doors in Garrard county often make their escape, and drop from the public mind, but the local officers are constantly on the lookout, and if they wish to avoid the vigilant eye of Sheriff George Ballard or deputy Curt Robinson, they will have to put considerable territory between them and the county of Garrard, and even after that precaution, they are often caught and returned.

Have You Tried

Black Star COAL?

If not, you're losing a lot of COAL. SATISFACTION. Better order a TON at once from

H. C. BAILEY.

Mr. O. W. Estes and wife left Thursday for La Pryor, Texas, where they will make their future home.

Seeding Expense.

Local merchants are advertising clover seed at $14.00 per bushel and timothy seed at from $5.00 to $6.00 per bushel. Pretty expensive this when you take into consideration the fact that it is hard to "get a stand" and that severe weather often kills young clover.

New Paper in Somerset.

Cecil Williams has more competition in Somerset in the shape of the Somerset Leader, which sheet succeeds the defunct Somerset Republican, with Mr. W. G. Cundiff as editor. We welcome the Leader to our exchange list, and as it is a republican paper in the only republican district in the state, we bespeak success for it.

Chester Fitch Secures Position.

Chester Fitch of Jessamine county, who resided in Lancaster for a time, has secured a position in the postoffice department of the House of Representatives in Washington. The position is only temporary and Mr. Fitch will return to Jessamine after its expiration and actively push his canvass for the democratic nomination for county clerk of that county.

Game Having Tough Time.

Rabbits and quail are having a hard time during the unusually severe weather and the latter are often seen about barn yards feeding with the domestic fowls. We could tell some marvellous stories about the game of the county, but for fear of being characterized as a "fish liar", we will leave this to some of our contemporaries who have already related some occurrences along that line.

Florida Sale A Success.

The sale of lots in Deland Florida on February 2nd under the supervision of Messrs O. T. Wallace and J. S. Haselden, was a great success. The lots brought from $600. to $1350. each and the sale amounted in the aggregate to more than $70,000. The United Realty & Auction Company, under which name Messrs Wallace & Haselden conduct their sales, have opened up permanent headquarters in Deland.

Frederick Martin Ripley Knowles.

News has been received here by Mr. A. B. Brown Sr. of the death of Fred Knowles, as he was familiarly called, which occurred in Denver, Col. on the 1st inst. Mr. Knowles married Miss Marietta Crow of Louisville, who is a grand daughter of Mr. Brown, about four years ago. Mrs. W. S. Holman of Louisville, Mrs. Knowles' mother, went to Chicago to meet her daughter to accompany her to New York where the interment took place.

A True Prophet.

Any one who doubted the accuracy of the ground hog as a weather prophet will surely become a believer after his last caper. He may not be exact as to the length of the spell of weather, but he was certainly correct as to its coming. After the second day, which is his natol day, being fairly comfortably, the following day ushered in a violent snow storm and on Sunday the Mercury dropped to 6 below. Surely no one will doubt his powers as a prophet after this.

A Sad Death.

Mr. T. J. Cochran, a state deputy fire marshal, whose home is in Carrollton Ky. came to Lancaster on January 19th to make an investigation of some fires which had recently occurred in the county. He went into the country and was gone for a few days and upon his return to the Kengarian hotel, where he was stopping, he complained of being sick. Dr. Burnett was summoned and found him suffering with lagrippe and slightly congested lungs, and advised that he go to the Lancaster hospital for treatment. This Mr. Cochran would not do, saying that he was anxious to be at home, and so great was his anxiety that he started against the expressed wishes of the physician. A few days after his departure news reached Mr. Zimmer, proprietor of the Kengarian, of the death of Mr. Cochran in Louisville, he not being able to reach his home.

To Tax Bachelors.

H. B. No. 392 introduced by Mr. T. M. Bertram, representative from Lewis county before the Kentucky legislature seeks to place a tax upon bachelors between the ages of 35 and 60 years for school purposes. This act would if passed fall pretty hard upon the Record with the editor verging upon the minimum and the assistant creeping well along toward the maximum age, and we shall do what is within our power to block its passage, however, we have but small hopes in so far as our own representative, is concerned, who having succeeded in fooling one of Garrard county's best women in to becoming his wife, now seems to take a special delight in sending us a marked copy of the Legislative Digest containing a copy of the bill. This too after our personal friendship of years standing, and the many courtesies we have shown him, and that too knowing full well that neither of the editors have any matrimonial hopes. Oh the ingratitude of some people.

WELL DONE, MR. HELM.

Says Louisville Times of Work of 38th District Congressman.

Under the heading "Well done Mr. Helm," the Louisville Times tells how the Lincoln county congressman had a very large part in saving the taxpayers of the country something like $30,000,000 a year. Wonder what some of his detractors will say to these words. The Times says

Well Done, Mr. Helm.

The report made to the House of Representatives by the Secretary of War, recommending the immediate abandonment of eighteen army posts and the gradual elimination of others until the total is cut down from forty nine to eight, is the outcome of the work of which Representative Helm, of Kentucky, has been engaged for months as chairman of the Committee of Expenditures in the War Department.

The Helm Committee has held numerous and exhaustive hearings at which Gen. Wood, the chiefs of departments, such as the Quartermasters and the subsistence department and scores of other officers in a position to speak with the authorities of knowledge, have appeared as witnesses. The hearings have been conducted without flourish of trumpets or the accompaniment of brass band trimmings. They have had as their object the increased efficiency of the army in time of peace more effective methods of mobilization in time of war and decreased expenditures through the inauguration of army, as distinguished from political trading posts.

In a speech recently made by Chairman Helm the statement was made that an annual saving of from ten to thirty millions could be effected by the elimination of useless posts and the maintenance of only such posts as are necessary to provide an adequate system of defense. That the estimate is conservative is shown by the fact that, in the Secretary of War's report, that official declares that the abandonment of the eighteen posts named will decrease the cost of maintenance of $5,500,000 a year. If the Helm plan is adopted in toto and but 8 posts are left—and that number will be adequate to guard the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, to provide an efficient system of reinforcement from posts situated on interior lines and for the purpose of the better instruction of the National Guard, a saving of $20,000,000 annually is by no means an extreme figure. The resultant benefit to the army's efficiency is incalculable.

At a time when there is much talk about economy and few indications of its practice by either party at Washington, Mr. Helm's plan of reversing the system commends itself to most favorable consideration.

Farra A Delagats.

Hon. McCreary has appointed Hon. John M. Farra a delegate to the Illinois and Interstate Good Roads Convention, which convenes in Chicago on February 12th.

Ed. Walton Back In Harness.

Ed. C. Walton has purchased of Cecil Williams the Somerset Times and will take charge of it at once. The Times, already a newsy sheet, will under the skillful management and guidance of Ed. Walton, rapidly take front rank among the democratic newspapers of the state. A hustling business man, a splendid manager and a versatile and logical writer, Ed. will receive a warm welcome back into the realm of Journalism, and by the same token will the loss of Cecil Williams be regretted. The latter has a splendid position in the office of State Auditor Bosworth.

What's the use of the legislature putting thousands of dollars in a fish hatchery to stock the streams of the state with fish? Is it that the scoundrelly dynamiter may destroy them faster than they can be replenished? First pass a law to put the dynamiter and other fish destroyers out of business and then go after the hatchery. "This kind of outlaw would be in his glory in the taxpayer furnishing the fish," Harrodsburg Herald.

The laws already upon the statute books of Kentucky are amply adequate for the protection of the fish and game of the state. What we need is the rigid enforcement of the already existing laws. What is the use of enacting more laws to go unheeded as the ones we already have. What we need is an organization of the land owners who will co-operate with the officers of the law in the enforcement of the laws; next game wardens who are officers in more than name only, who will not only prosecute transgressions brought to their notice, but will look for transgressions. Then and then only will the fish and game of the state be protected.

TOBACCO Brings 41c Pound

The Peoples Tobacco Warehouse are still selling at the same high prices and Wednesday reached the high price as shown above. The sellers are feeling good and claim that this is the only market. Although the weather was cold Wednesday, this house sold 50,000 Lbs. of the weed and some of the prices are shown below. Special attention is called to the high average of the crop of Judge Hughes of Mercer Co. He had 9320 pounds and it averaged him $15.56.

Garrard County people are requested to visit this house and have a personal talk with Col. I. M. Dunn, an old Garrard County Man. Below are a few of the prices received by growers at this house---

Over a year ago the Record advocated the location of a loose leaf tobacco market in Lancaster. We were given assurance that a house could not be established here because of the fact that buyers could not be secured, that it was not the policy of the great tobacco buying house throughout the country to place so many layers in the field. We have learned while this information was furnished us in good faith, it was erroneous. Since that time more loose leaf houses have been established and more are in contemplation, and they all secure buyers. Houses are established in counties where there is not one half the tobacco raised that there is in Garrard county, and where the quality is far below the standard of our production; and buyers are furnished to these houses, then why not here.

Take it year in and year out, Garrard county produces upon an average of 5,000,000 pounds of tobacco annually; as fine a grade of white burley as is produced in the world, commanding as good a price as any tobacco from any other county in this or any other state, and despite this fact the farmers of Garrard county are compelled to haul their tobacco not less than twelve, and from that as far as forty miles, in order to place it upon a competitive market. And this is a progressive county in "Greater Kentucky".

Talk about patronizing mail order houses, the hauling of our tobacco to other towns to market takes more money out of the county in one year than all the mail order houses put together does in four. The farmer when he takes his crop to an adjoining town to market never fails to spend a goodly percent of his year's earnings in that town, which if we had a home market, would be spent at home.

We are firm in our belief that the tobacco crop of Garrard county is desirable, that it is sufficient in quantity, and good enough in quality for those who want good tobacco to come here after it, but why should they come after it when it will be taken to them. Just so long as we will take it to them, just so long we may do so, and when we establish a home market for our home product, then will Mahomet go to the mountain.

As the case now stands, the Garrard county farmer consumes from two to four days in conveying his crop to market, is at an enormous expense, is compelled to hire additional teams in order that he may transport his entire crop at one trip, is exposed to the weather for several days, and then when he reaches the market he is tired, worn out and disgusted; then if he happens to strike an "off day" when the market is poor, and were he at home he would not sell, but wait until the market improved, yet in his tired and worn out condition, and in his anxiety to get back to his home and family he lets it go, preferring to sacrifice his crop rather than to stay on expense so far from home when his family and business demand his attention. Is this state of affairs to continue indefinitely, is Garrard county to continue a feeder for its neighbors, are we time a feeder for its neighbors, are we to continue the production of as good burley tobacco as any county in the state and adjoining counties reap the profits of our industries?

Cannot the Garrard County Development Association take this matter up and remedy it? This body we look to in such matters for assistance, and we appeal to them now to institute an investigation and see if we cannot have a home market for our tobacco.

There has been introduced in the Kentucky legislature two bills having for their object the giving to the state a mandatory primary election law, the one which was presented by Senator Eaton has already passed the upper house, the other one presented by Rep. Thompson also having passed the lower house. The bills are very similar in their general provisions, but the one introduced by Mr. Thompson is more complete in detail. The legislature will doubtless combine the two bills, taking the best contained in each of them and will enact a law entitled the Eaton-Thompson Primary Election Law, thereby recognizing the splendid services of both gentlemen. The indications at present are that a law evolved from the two will be enacted within the next few days.

The bills provide for the holding of a mandatory primary election upon the first Tuesday in August, both parties making nominations for offices, and in the event there are no nominations made, there will be no candidates at the ensuing November election, for which election the primary is held to nominate candidates. There will be two sets of ballots, one set for the Democratic and one for the Republican party, but the election will be held by one set of officers, two of which shall be selected from each party, and the state and county will defray the expenses of the election.

We heartily congratulate the gentlemen upon their presentation of such sensible measures looking to the protection and safeguarding of the rights of suffrage of the people and guaranteeing a fair primary election for both parties. We rejoice in the belief that Kentucky is fast approaching a representative form of government.

After a heated struggle lasting several weeks the people of Lincoln county will tomorrow vote upon whether or not intoxicating liquors shall be sold legally within the confines of the county. We sincerely hope, first because of the fair name of the county of Lincoln being involved, that the result will be a victory for the advocates of the dry side of the question. Our second cause for this wish is a selfish one, because of the fact that in the event that saloons are voted into Lincoln county, Lancaster and Garrard county will reap all of the evil to be derived from their opening, and if there be such a thing as a benefit arising from such a source, we will get none of it. It is eternal vigilance upon the part of our officers which keeps the bootlegging element in check here now, and were saloons to be opened in Stanford, their vigilance would have to be redoubled, for every one of the old element that in days past trafficked with the critter would attempt to bring in more or less from the new source, and it would be next to an impossibility to detect every one of them.

In view of the above facts, because we believe the better element in Lincoln county do not desire open saloons, and for our own protection, we sincerely hope that tomorrow will witness an overwhelming victory for those who are opposed to the legalized sale of liquor in Lincoln county.

The New County Unit Extension Law.

The Graham bill which passed the senate recently providing for the extension of the already existing County Unit Law, is identical with the Niles measure which has already passed the House, and which will doubtless be the measure which will be submitted to the Governor, and after receiving his signature, will become a law, and is as follows:

"No election in any town, city, district or precinct of a county shall be held, under this article, on the same day on which an election for the entire county is held. When an election is held in an entire county and a majority of the legal votes cast at said election are against the sale, barter or loan of spirituous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquors, then it shall not be lawful to sell, barter or loan any such liquor in any portion of the county. If, at such an election for the entire county, the majority of the legal votes cast are in favor of the sale, barter or loan of any such liquors, such election shall not operate to make it legal to grant license to sell, barter or loan such liquors in any territorial division of such county from which the sale, barter or loan has been excluded by an election held under this article, or by special act, but the status of such territorial division shall remain as if no such election had been held.

"If no election shall be held in any election precinct under this act on the same day on which an election is held for the district or city of which the precinct is a part. If at an election held for such entire district or city, the majority of legal votes cast shall be in favor of the sale, barter or loan of spirituous, vinous, malt or other liquors, then the status in several precincts thereof shall remain as it was before said election; but if the majority shall be against the sale, then the sale, barter or loan of such liquors shall be unlawful in every portion of said district or city.

The Men's Religion And Forward Movement His Specialty Of Effort.

On behalf of pastors of Lancaster, Dr. Deane gives following statement: Its Great Record; its coming to Lancaster and Garrard.

In Louisville, as Kentucky center of the movement for 1912, six thousand men attended the meetings in November. A campaign of eight days, four hundred recruits themselves for the good life of the Christ-way, the whole city was stirred.

So this winter seventy new central cities of America, are being stirred as never before, from these cities the movement is extended to cities and towns of next grade, and so on until it reaches every school district in a county. Meetings being held also in shops, factories and on down to country firesides.

When it is first it is interdenominational; it stands for and serves, therefore, men and boys practical Christianity; to receive believe and serve it in their Head as life and business; a work a day.

Present Plans of forward movement in Kentucky, commencing with New York national center, each state of forty six has its State Center; Kentucky is Louisville. At the state center of the Movement four teams of six men each formed and specially trained for special departments of effort.

They are the best of Louisville's laymen and ministers to go out into the state to such towns, as will work with them in some five lines of effort; namely, boys work bible study, evangelism, social service and missions.

Local organization in plenty of Committee work, careful invoice of local conditions example; how many families of Garrard; how many individuals of Lancaster have time to use their Bible? How many boys of the county are out the weekly Bible study? and other and other. How many will face about.

Services of state center team are given free to a county center that invites and works with them, they only expect travel expense and entertainment gifts to work are entirely voluntary, each community thus served to pass it on to the next; in special organization and effort; selecting their own field.

Pastors of Lancaster have federated to invite the state team and cooperate the movement going on all over the state in present month of February four teams of six men each, three days in a place, team one; east as far as Ashland, Ky. team two; south west sectional state, team three central Kentucky Lexington, Danville, Lancaster etc. Team four western Kentucky Lancaster date, not yet given but will be notified at earliest possible moment and Garrard will men and boys of Lancaster with mothers, wives, sisters give welcome to the movement, it is believed they will.

Mr. S. G. Haselden Purchases Farm.

Mr. S. G. Haselden of the hardware firm of Haselden Bros. has purchased of Mr. W. A. Price 98 acres of land on the Fall Lick turnpike about five miles from Lancaster for which he paid $50.75 per acre. This is splendid farming land and we understand Mr. Haselden will place a tenant on it who will cultivate it.

A New Executive Mansion Assured.

The first bill to pass both houses of the present legislature was appropriation of $75,000 for the erection of a new Executive Mansion. The passing of the bill means that Kentucky is to erect for her chief executive residence which will be an honor to the state, and which will be in keeping with the movement for a greater Kentucky.

Grove Kennedy Passes To His Last Reward

Mr. Grove C. Kennedy died at his home near Preachersville on last Saturday and his remains were interred Sunday in the cemetery at Preachersville. Mr. Kennedy had been in failing health for some time from a complication of diseases, but his death was caused by pneumonia. He is survived by his wife and four sons and one daughter, all of whom are grown, one son Mr. Mike O. Kennedy being engaged in business in Bryansville in this county.

Grove Kennedy has had a tempestuous career, and the deeds of his earlier years are now being extensively exploited in the press of the state, but with all of his faults, and who is without them, he had much in his character which was to be admired. His declining years were devoted with all the filial love of which a kindhearted father is capable, in trying to do something to render more comfortable the lives of his sons, three of whom had been so unfortunate as to get into trouble, and the old gentlemen's efforts were rewarded by having with him all of his surviving sons at the time of his death. Kind hearted and faithful to a friend, he never forgot a kindness, and there are hundreds of people in this and adjoining counties who admire him for these splendid traits of character.

Origin Of "Ground Hog's Day."

The following "folk lore" story taken from Our Dumb Animals gives the origin of the "Ground Hog's Day," and in the absence of any other more plausible account, we may had as well accept as the true origin.

According to an old folk-lore story, if a person wishes to know whether there will be a late or early spring the woodchuck is the animal to be consulted.

Early in the Autumn the woodchuck goes to sleep in his winter quarters, the curls himself up in a little ball, with his nose under his paws so that he can keep his toes warm by breathing on them. Here he sleeps snugly all winter, and then, so the old story goes, he wakes up suddenly on February 2nd, stretches himself, rubs his eyes, and as he creeps out of his cozy nest to see what it looks like outdoors. If he finds it cold and wet, the earth covered with snow, and heavy gray clouds hanging low in the sky, he begins to look around, for he feels certain that soon the ground will be warm and the little buds will be coming out for Spring is surely on her way. But if the sun is shining brightly and the first thing he sees as he leaves his burrow is his own shadow, he pops back into it again as fast as he can, once more tucks his nose under his paws and settles down for another six weeks' nap, for a cold, late season is the only result that can be expected from seeing his own little shadow cast by the bright sunlight. It must be confessed that he doesn't always get it just right, but he probably doesn't mind if he does oversleep some fine spring days.

Walling-Patton.

One of the prettiest home weddings that has occurred in this vicinity for many a day, was that of Miss Olive Walling and Mr. Oscar Patton, when they were united in marriage at the pretty home of the bride Wednesday morning at five o'clock. It was a most beautiful home wedding. The house was artistically decorated in white and green and presented a scene that was lovely, as the golden hue of the sunrise was about to arise and spread its brilliancy about the ever beaming bride.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Homer Carpenter, a very pleasing and popular young minister of Shelbyville.

That man that took away as his bride Miss Walling won one of our best ladies, one that has made and modeled a reputation that is beyond comparison. Miss Olive Walling will long be remembered as one of Campbellsville's prettiest and most accomplished young women. She was a sunbeam—ever illuminating the darkest clouds and appearing away down yonder in the golden glories of a sinking day, holding high in her hand a flag that was pretty and stood for the noblest and purest in character. Miss Walling is one of Campbellsville's most charming young women, and we pass her on to another community with the same regret that the most fragrant flower its sweetness and fragrance. The groom is one of the best known young farmers in his section and he has many friends to congratulate him.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Patton left on the 6:14 train for Atlanta, Ga., amidst a shower of good wishes for the future. On their return they will make their home near Richmond, Ky.

Tuesday evening a six o'clock dinner was given in honor of the approaching nuptials.

Out of town guests were Mr. B. F. Patton and Miss Bessie Patton, Richmond, and Mr. George Patton, of Louisville.—Taylor Co Enquirer.

Dandruff And Itching Scalp Yield To Zemo

Treatment 3

Why should you continue to experiment with salves, greasy lotions and fancy hair dressings trying to rid your scalp of germ life. They can't do it because they cannot penetrate to the seat of the trouble and draw the germ life to the surface of the scalp and destroy it.

Why not try a PROVEN REMEDY? One that will do this. We have a remedy that will rid the scalp of germ life and in this way will cure DANDRUFF AND ITCHING SCALP.

This remedy is ZEMO, a clean refined penetrating scalp tonic that goes right to the seat of the trouble and drives the germ life to the surface and destroys it.

A shampoo with ZEMO (AFTISEPTIC) SOAP and one application of ZEMO will entirely rid the scalp of dandruff and scurf. Do not hesitate, but get a bottle of ZEMO today. It acts on a new principle and will do exactly what we claim for it.

A Letter From North Dakota.

Perhaps a letter from the frozen North would be of interest to relatives and friends, I will endeavor to tell you of our winter we are now having in Dakota, it has been awful cold the past three weeks in Dakota as well as the other states, the thermometer has been thirty six to forty below zero, I know as I am out most every day have become used to the cold, but one has to wrap up good, wear fur caps, fur or sheep lined coats and heavy mittens, and if your mittens are not very heavy you can wear three or four pair. We haven't had so much snow this winter, it is drifted in places ten and twelve feet deep, and have had one bad blizzard, one girl teaching school at a little town was lost in that blizzard and she only had to go a few rods to her boarding house, but some way got turned around and wandered about three miles away and was found frozen to death. I also know another girl that froze her ears driving three miles; that was the first time I ever saw any one frozen, her ears were awful to look at and very painful to her. I haven't been very cold and have gone to school every day, some mornings the fur collar on my coat is white with frost and if a lock of hair is peeping from under my cap that is white with frost, and tears come in my eyes I close them and they will begin to freeze, so you see you have to keep your eyes open in Dakota, and what do you think of your eye lashes being white with frost.

As soon as the first snow falls people all begin to travel in bobsleds you never see a wheel vehicle out until the snow is all gone. We drive two horses to a sleigh to school every day, two miles and a half. It is fun for awhile but one soon gets tired and longs to see the green grass. I wish you Ky., boys and girls were out here to go skating, coasting and sleigh-riding. My brother has a pair of skis he has great fun with them on the snow. I visited my old Kentucky home about a year ago when the people there thought they had a cold winter, I only laughed they never did see any cold weather. You think when it's cold enough for sleighing that is awful cold, I am glad when it gets warm enough to quit sleighing. I came from a party one night when it was thirty below zero but strange to say I did not get cold, was well wrapped up in a fur coat and robe and it seemed impossible that it could be that cold but the air is so dry, we don't have the damp climate you eastern people have.

The coyotes wake us up these winter nights with their yelping it isn't anything unusual to see three or four playing on the Prairies, they are so much like a shepherd dog and play like two pups, and the prairie chickens fly around and feed on the wheat stacks, the jack rabbits are so pretty now just as white as the snow. It seems to me when I pick up a home paper and read about what cold winter you are having if I was there I would think it was warm. The older settlers say it has been colder here than it has been in eight years.

Wishing every one a happy New Year in my Old Kentucky Home as I think it is the only place on the globe. I will ring off.

Take me back to Old Kentucky.

To the state where I was born.
